The movie inspired me to go to college and learn robotics and my thoughts were that when they won the competition was really surprised since they beat MIT and they were a highschool.

Underwater Dreams

The Underwater Dreams movie inspired me so much that there's lots to tell. First, I want to get good grades so I can get into a university like Cal State Fullerton. Then, when I graduate I want to become a successful architect. I would like to build houses for people in need of shelter. I will be very thankful with everybody that made a difference in my life.

Under Water

Dreams^{zzz}

I think, the movie, "Under Water Dreams," is a good inspiration for immigrants who want to make a difference in the world, to go to college and raise money for their families. This movie also lets people know that they can go to school and get a job that gives a sufficient amount of money whatever their background. I like this movie because it amazed me how four high school boys won first place against college students in the robotics competition. In the movie there were sad moments like when the one girl left Mexico with her mom and came to the U.S. to look for the little girl's dad. You can do what you set your mind to.

My opinion on UNDER WATER DREAMS is that it was a good movie and it also inspired me to go to a university. It also made science more interesting to me and it was also a funny movie. It also inspired me to build things like catapults and robots. This movie was really entertaining and cool because although the 4 students didn't have money to make their robot look really cool they used what they could and they ended up winning all the other schools in the competition for under water robots. This movie inspired me for many things and it was one of the coolest movies I have ever seen and thank you for the movie.

The movie Under Water Dreams is a very intristing movie. I realy enjoyed this movie it was amazing in how the students are inmigrants and beat some very good colleges. Although robotics has never intrested me, I might think about it and maybe even become a scientist. Another thing that I felt very inspiring was that even though the students were poor they still became succesful. This makes me want to just try my best and to make my biggest goal happen to be somebody in life and to keep on going to school. Also thank you for letting us watch this remarkable movie.

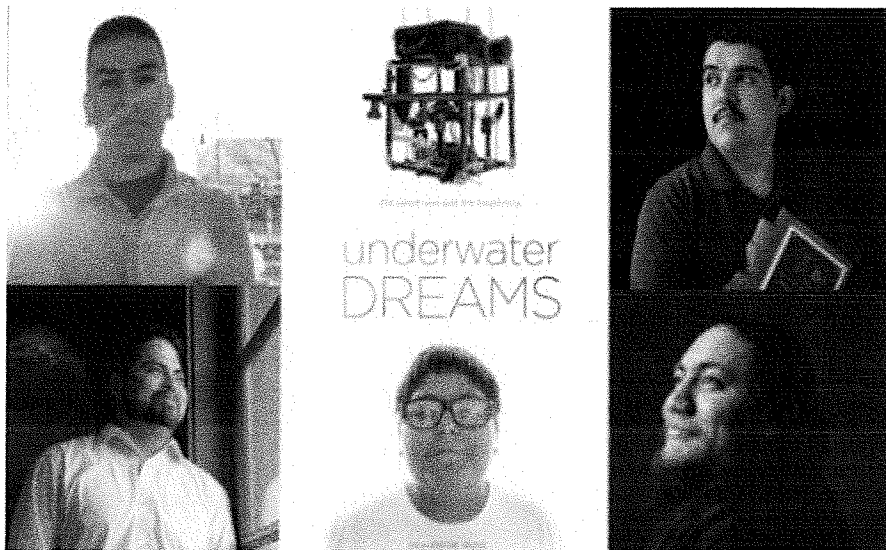

My Thoughts Underwater Dreams.

My thoughts on underwater dreams inspired me to get into a good college. It also inspired me to follow my dream Job. This inspired me to try even more.

This even inspired my brother to become an engineer. He wants to make a robot himself.

UnderWater Dreams

UnderWater Dreams was a very heartwarming story. What i thought was so awesome is that four teenagers won against MIT and other universities. Another thought of the story was that they were very creative and used tampons, at first i was like ITAMPONS! really. This story did make me want to try robotics class when i am older, it also inspired me to do my best and never give up. i was amazing that 4 teenagers that were poor, had a bad back round, were still able to accomplish their dream and make a difference in life.
and yet

My thoughts on Underwater dream

I thought Underwater dreams was cool because I liked how they worked as a team and gave great ideas.

This movie inspired me to maybe be an engineer and go to college or just to go to college and not an engineer. I also liked how M.I.T. had different parts to their robot and how they never gave up and how they kept trying different things and different ways to build their robot.

In my opinion of the movie "Underwater Dreams", are that I like the movie and it inspired me to go to college. Although I am not really into beinging a ingener or a sientenc or eniting about that but I like the movie and thank you for inviting us to see it, it was amaizing, to see them move on with their lives from being poor to being ingeners.

What I thought about UnderWater Dreams was that never give up on anything to try to notice what is wrong here, how can I solve it.

UnderWater Dreams was a movie about these teams (the most main teams) that are competing but these two team these mexicans built a underwater robot out of pipes, wires, a motor etc. Other team had high quality robot it had motors, metal, wires, high quality battery etc. The mexican team where saying were going to loose, were going to loose. The other team was were going to win first place. They had time to test drive it and notices when they took it out that there was water in the wire box! That was not good they went to a store and... bought tampons as a sponge to soak up the water. At the end the mexican team won and they were like imposible our robot was not in high quality the other team got second place but still happy. For the mexican team it was hard because they don't have enufe money too buy many things. UnderWater Dreams GREAT MOVIE
